

ANNEX B

Illustration of a MICE event for zones of 50 pax in a function room/ ballroom

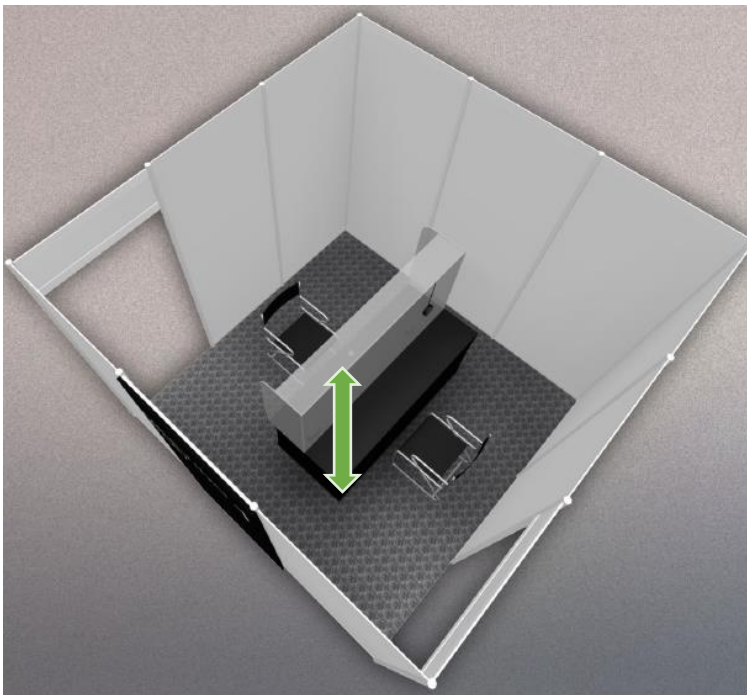

- Ballroom
- Zone: No. of attendees (≤ 50 pax) allowed in one enclosed event space (e.g. function room/hallroom)
- Solid partition with height of 1.8m to segregate attendees of different zones.
- In the event that a solid partition is not practicable, ensure that other physical barriers such as queue poles or cones are used to clearly demarcate at least
- Maintain at least 1m spacing between each seat at all times.

Illustration of a Safe Exhibition Booth, with solid partition between exhibitor and visitor

Illustration of a Safe Meeting Space, with solid partition between exhibitor and visitor, or between participants from different zones.

Sample of a safe exhibition booth and meeting space used in pilot MICE trade exhibition, TravelRevive – Powered by ITB Asia and STB.

Best practice of separate entrances and exit for both parties implemented.

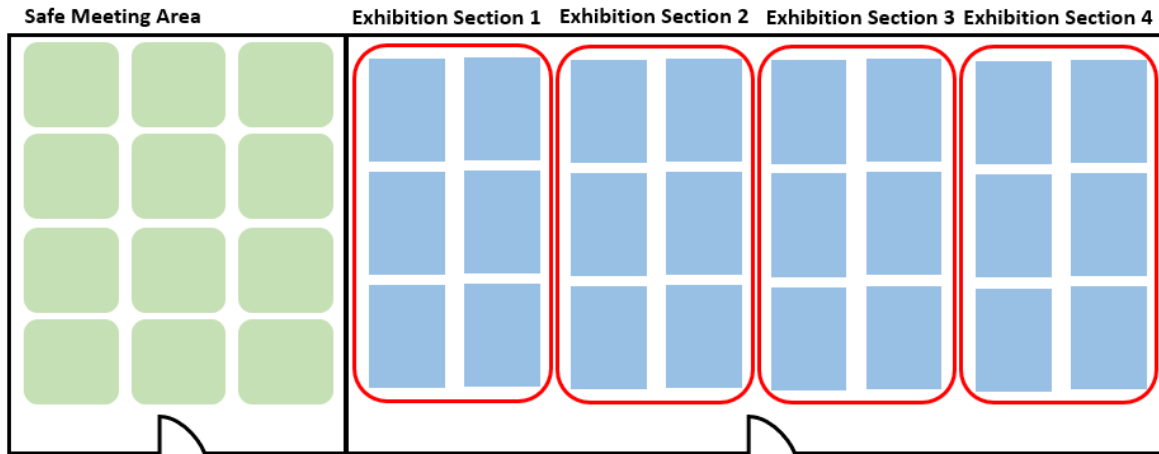

Photo: ITB Asia, Designed by Pico

Fixed 1.8m tall U-Shaped plexiglass barrier between exhibitor and visitor

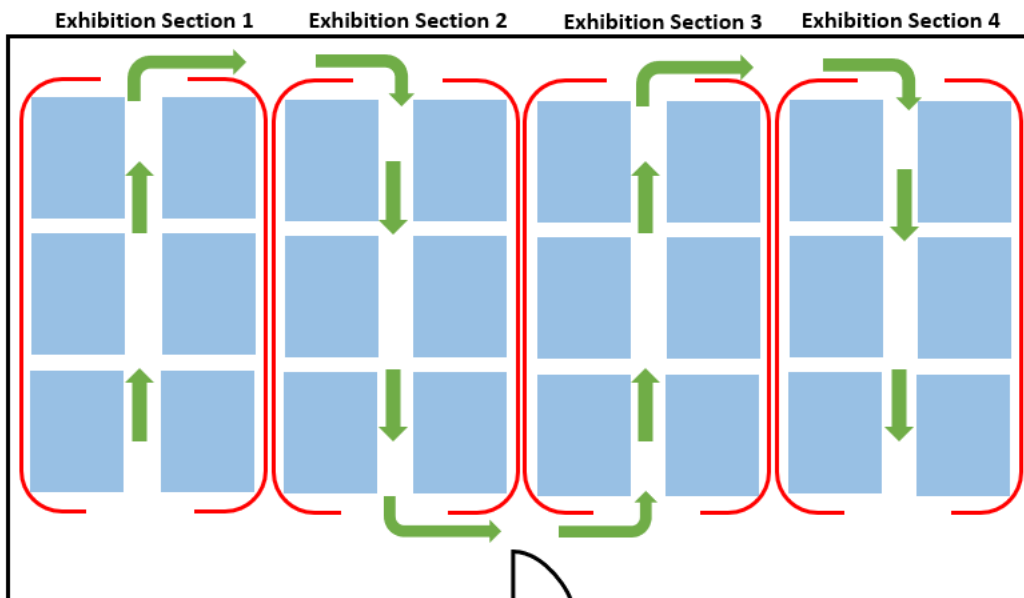

Illustration of a safe tradeshow floor (Possibility 1)

- Ballroom
- Safe meeting space: for extended meetings between exhibitors and visitors.
- Safe exhibition booth: for interactions between exhibitors and visitors who are browsing the exhibition section.
- Exhibition Section: an area of exhibition space where not more than 50 individuals can be present, whether exhibitors or customers.

Illustration of the movement of individuals through a safe tradeshow floor

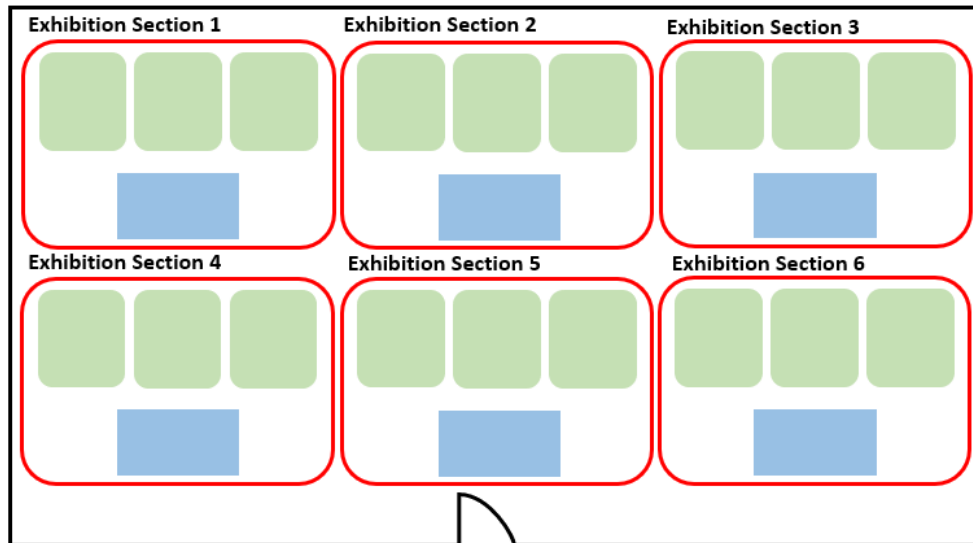

- Possible movement of individuals through the tradeshow floor, utilising a one-directional flow. One zone of visitors is allowed to browse one exhibition section at any one time. The illustration above can concurrently accommodate 200 individuals, including exhibitors and customers

Passion
Made Possible

Illustration of a safe tradeshow floor (Possibility 2)

- Ballroom
- Safe meeting space: for extended meetings between exhibitors and visitors.
- Safe exhibition booth: For interactions between exhibitors and visitors who are browsing the exhibition section.
- Exhibition Section: an area of exhibition space where not more than 50 individuals can be present, whether exhibitors or customers.